

GOSSIP

THE drygoods stores have begun to fill their windows with gingham and linens with attached cards, announcing that the same are new materials for school dresses, which makes us begin to realize that vacation is almost gone and it is time to stop playing and get down to the serious business of the year, whatever that may be. Already the summer homes are preparing to close their windows and bolt their doors ready for the cooler months, and soon will be commenced in earnest the annual pilgrimage back to town.

Honolulu has seemed to enjoy her lovely outdoors more this summer than on previous years. Tennis, of course, is always played, and there are those who will enthrall over golf no matter how hot the day. However, the returning popularity of croquet this summer has brought many into the field of athletics for whom the above mentioned games are too strenuous. Swimming also is much more generally enjoyed than ever before, although there is no doubt that the discovery that the Outrigger Club was an ideal place to entertain one's guests informally accounts in a great measure for this. Tramping has been followed by some, but only by the most habitual walkers, as it has been much too warm for the exertion required. Perhaps fewer people went away this summer than is usually the case, but it does seem as if Honolulu is awakening to its own limitless possibilities for entertainment.

Dr. and Mrs. Carey's Dance.

Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Carey entertained at a delightful dance at their home on Keesumoku on last Saturday evening in honor of Miss Luita Arnold and Miss Sadie Carey who left on the Matsonia Wednesday on their way to Notre Dame where they will continue their studies.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in green and white. Great clusters of lovely white roses and shaggy white asters were artistically grouped about while quantities of maidenhair and asparagus ferns were effectively used.

A Hawaiian quintette furnished excellent music and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

Those present were: The Misses Luita Arnold, Bessie Seybolt, Irmgard Drash, Sibyl Carter, Ruth Seybolt, Ay's Fennel, Alvina Blom, Lillian Fennel, Nellie Hollinger, Helen Blom, Irene Hughes, Max Harris, Pearl Robinson, Dorothy Quarles, Mary Brown, Julia Hollinger, Ethel Fennel, Angie Maderlos, Maude Sanderson, Sadie Carey, Messrs. Lloyd Arnold, Theo. Decker, Martin Fennel, Blakeley McStocker, Jay Woodhouse, Allan Rodmore, Eddie Huthinson, John Hoff, Fred Carter, Arthur Huff, Kenneth Decker, Luther Huff, Charles Hughes, Malcolm Smith, Irvine Blom, William Warren, Jack Perry, Jerome Hughes, Dr. J. H. Farrell, Thomas Hollinger, Jr., Will Hughes, Thomas Carey and Dr. and Mrs. Carey.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Depart.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Franklin of Columbus, Mississippi, who have been visitors in Honolulu for the past six weeks, departed on the Matsonia en route to their home on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Franklin has been very prominent both in state and national D. A. C. affairs for a number of years. She organized the Columbus chapter of the D. A. C. and also served as its first regent, while at present she is the state regent of Mississippi.

Mrs. Franklin is an exceptionally attractive woman and has won a great many friends in local social circles during her short stay here. As she stood at the Matsonia's rail on Wednesday and waved her farewells to those who were completely buried beneath the wealth of life. Her august presence was notable in that it drew a few women to win such a short time.

One of Honolulu's friends of Mrs. Franklin, Miss F. E. Howell received a letter from London announcing the birth of a son, August, on July 5.

Miss Howell is very well known to local circles, having a great many friends here. They left Hawaii about a year ago to make their home in England and have been residing in London since that time.

Mrs. Franklin Honored.

Mrs. T. B. Franklin, sister-in-law of Malcolm A. Franklin, who, with her husband has been visiting in Honolulu for several weeks, was the motif for a very charming affair on Monday afternoon at which Mrs. A. S. Humphreys was hostess.

The house was attractively decorated with a profusion of beautiful hibiscus blossoms which were artistically arranged in great masses of red, yellow, pink and all of the other delicate shades. Such quantities there were and so large and perfect were the blooms that the rooms had the appearance of a lovely hibiscus show.

The luncheon table was literally buried beneath the wealth of flowers. In the center was a huge cluster of great double hibiscus of a dainty pink hue while the remainder of the table was one solid mass of the flower heads intermingled with sprays of maidenhair.

Mrs. Franklin is very prominent in D. A. C. affairs and on Monday afternoon Mrs. Humphreys invited the officers of the Aloha chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution to meet her.

Covers were placed for about 15.

onel and Mrs. Charles S. Bromwell. The club house was beautifully decorated with quantities of lovely pink hibiscus blooms, set in a background of palms and ferns. Clusters of these same pink flowers were also used on the tea tables where delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Reynolds was assisted in serving by Mrs. George H. Jamerson, Mrs. John B. McDonald and Mrs. J. D. Whitman.

About one hundred and twenty guests called during the afternoon to meet Colonel and Mrs. Bromwell, and a very pleasant time was enjoyed dancing and chatting.

A Coming Wedding.

Among the passengers on the Matsonia bound for the coast, was Stuart Johnson, who is journeying to the mainland to claim his bride, Miss Zoe Watkins, who spent a number of months in the islands returned to her home in Arizona last spring shortly after the announcement of her engagement to Mr. Johnson. She is at present in Los Angeles, and it has not been definitely decided as yet, whether the wedding will take place in that city or at Miss Watkins' home in Arizona. Although the date has not been set, it will probably be early in September.

After the wedding, the couple plan to travel awhile on the mainland, returning to Honolulu in November. They will then move at once into their lovely new home in Manoa, which is located on Oahu avenue near the home of Mrs. F. E. Blake, Mr. Johnson's sister.

Bride Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Warren entertained a few friends informally at bridge on Monday evening at their home on Kewalo street. The bidding was spirited at the four tables and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed. Later the card enthusiasts were joined by several more guests and delightful refreshments were served.

Company D's Dance.

The following announcement has been received: Company D, National Guard of Hawaii, cordially invites you and your friends to an informal dance at the armory on Saturday evening, September 5, at 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Craig's Dinner.

Mrs. J. H. Craig was hostess at a delightful dinner party of last week. The table was prettily decorated with yellow coreopsis and maidenhair ferns and covers were placed for eight.

Miss Wichman's Dance.

Miss Eloise Wichman was hostess at a most delightful dance at the Country Club on last Monday evening. As Miss Wichman departed on the Matsonia Wednesday for the coast, the affair was in the nature of a farewell to her many friends of the younger set.

The decorations were simple but most attractive, being carried out in a green and yellow color scheme. Palms of different varieties, bamboo and dainty maidenhair ferns were used in abundance, the numerous white pillars being wreathed in bamboo leaves interwoven with the ferns. The lights were all hidden in pretty yellow shades which were most effective in the setting of green.

A Hawaiian quintette furnished excellent music and seventy or more of the popular younger set danced merrily until a late hour. Shortly after eleven delicious refreshments were served.

Those present were: Miss Laura Low, Miss Elizabeth Carter, Miss Phoebe Carter, Miss Mary Ragan Gary, Miss Grace Carter, Miss Mary von Holt, Miss Hilda von Holt, Miss Helen Achilles, Miss Rosamund Swazy, Miss Nora Swazy, Miss Lila McDonald, Miss Rose Herbert, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Miss Gladys Pearn, Miss Alice Macfarlane, Miss Beatrice Dredge, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss May Biven, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Margaret Center, Miss Telma Murphy, Miss Bernice Halstead, Miss Charlotte Dowsett, Miss Dorothy Guild, Miss Helen McLean, Miss Margaret Thurston, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dowsett, Judge and Mrs. A. A. Wilder, Messrs. Ernest Gay, Vernon Tenney, Jack Galt, Carter Galt, Allan Renton, Lewis Renton, Ed. Hedemann, Erling Hedemann, Alau Lowrey, George Fuller, Robert McCornist, Roy Patten, Robert Purvis, Carl Hafson, John Watt, Harry Levy, Henry Carter, Herman von Holt, Robert McDonald, Charles Herbert, Stanley Kennedy, Guy Macfarlane, Armiger Dredge, Fred Schaefer, Alexander Anderson, Lieutenant William C. Rose, Lieutenant Peyton, Lieutenant John H. Hinemen, Lieutenant Eugene W. Fales, Lieutenant Carl A. Hardigg and others.

Bridge Afternoons.

During this time of the year when there are not enough large affairs to keep society folk on the "go" all the time, numerous small groups come together for a few games of cards, or a little tating and a cup of tea. There are a number of little congenial groups of four or perhaps eight women who meet once a week for a few rubbers of bridge. Among these Mrs. J. B. McDonald, Mrs. Carl Hedemann, Mrs. Sara Newcomb and Mrs. Ellis have enjoyed a pleasant afternoon together one day each week.

Col. and Mrs. Bromwell Honored.

Colonel and Mrs. P. P. Reynolds entertained at a delightful reception and tea dance at the Country Club on Thursday afternoon in honor of Col-most enjoyable dance given in honor of her brother, Lieutenant Robert McDonald, who expects to depart in the near future for the coast. Lieutenant McDonald graduated from West Point last June and has been the guest of his parents, Colonel and Mrs. J. B. McDonald, during the summer months.

The spacious rooms were filled with lovely flowers which had been sent in during the day. Roses of many colors and varieties, as well as numerous other lovely blossoms, were artistically arranged in vases and bowls about the rooms. The Lemon quintette rendered splendid music and interest in the dancing did not flag for a second. About 11 o'clock refreshments were served on the lawn where the enchanting beauty of the perfect night was greatly enjoyed.

About 70 were present, including those of the younger set who are in town at present, as well as a number from Fort Shafter and Schofield Barracks who came in for the evening.

Miss Linnard Complimented.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Warren entertained at a most enjoyable beach party at the Outrigger club last week complimentary to Miss Dorothy Linnard of Pasadena, who with her father, D. M. Linnard, has been spending several weeks in Honolulu.

After a most refreshing swim a delicious tea was served on the cool lawn. The young ladies of the party who were all visitors in the islands found the afternoon most entertaining and enjoyable. Those present were: Miss Dorothy Linnard, Miss Julia Linnard of New York, Miss Margaret Andrews of Chicago; Messrs. Will Warren, Arch Brown and Welch, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Underwood's Bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Underwood entertained informally at bridge on Thursday evening at their home in Kaimuki. After a number of keenly contested rubbers, the gentlemen's prize, a lovely smoking stand, was won by Mr. Underwood, while the ladies' prize, a beautiful vase, was captured by Mrs. James Guild. Miss Mabel Hair was awarded the consolation prize, which was an attractive book.

Those present were: Lieutenant and Mrs. Frank D. Appin, Mr. and Mrs. Ray B. Retow, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Prescott, Mr. Sam Peck, Mrs. Ernest Ciesceke, Miss Mabel Hair, Mr. and Mrs. James Guild, Mr. Charles Simpson, Miss Constance Simpson, Mr. John Ashley, and Mr. and Mrs. Underwood.

Mr. George S. Roobach, the artist who is spending several months in Honolulu, was the guest of honor at a dinner party of the early week at the Moana hotel at which Mr. Kenneth Alexander was host. The table was most artistically decorated with roses and covers were placed for eight.

Announcing Miss Mathews

Miss Mathews is a well-known Millinery Designer and comes to us highly recommended. We consider ourselves fortunate indeed in having procured her services, she has been associated with the leading Millinery establishments not only on the Coast but in the East, among which we mention Collins of Los Angeles, the well-known importers, from where she comes to us.

Miss Mathews tells with much enthusiasm of the new styles and what the leading Milliners are doing in the States. She says, "Black and White effects are still exceptionally good and in addition and closely following this rage comes the soft shell pink effect; salsometal novelties are receiving much favor."

These new ideas and many more which Miss Mathews has suggested are to be seen in our Millinery Department; a few will be displayed in our windows this coming week.

Captain and Mrs. Henri Berger are spending a few days at Hauana. They expect to return to town on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. C. Campbell departed today for Hilo where they will make their permanent home in the future.

Judge and Mrs. E. M. Watson, accompanied by their little daughter Virginia, are expected home about the middle of September.

Dr. J. H. Farrell left recently for an extended trip east. He will spend considerable time in Chicago and New York, returning to Honolulu in January.

Mrs. J. D. Andrews and her daughter, Miss Margaret Andrews, who have been spending several weeks at Mrs. Gray's at Waikiki, left on the Matsonia for their home in Evanston, Illinois.

Ralph Gray was one of the many members of the younger set who left on the Matsonia to attend college in the East. Mr. Gray is bound for Ithaca, New York, where he will take up freshman work at Cornell.

The lovely new home which Dr. and Mrs. M. E. Grossman have been building at Kahala is completed and they with their children have moved into the same. They plan to spend the remainder of the summer there.

Mrs. Mountford S. Wilson and her sons, the Messrs. Mountford and Russell Wilson, returned Monday from Webber Lake, where they have been enjoying a month's outing at the Webber Lake Country Club—San Francisco Examiner.

Mrs. Frederick Klamp is at present visiting in San Francisco. She was, according to a recent coast paper, an attractive attendant at a linen shower given in Ross valley recently in honor of Miss Edna Fair, who is to be a next month's bride.

The dance at the Moana hotel on last Tuesday evening was exceptionally well attended. A number of the distinguished guests at the hotel, as well as many people from town enjoyed the good music and excellent floor which the Moana offers.

Mrs. E. B. Robertson who, with her daughter, Miss Margaret Robertson, has been the house-guest of Captain and Mrs. W. R. Davis for the past several weeks, left on the last Wilhelmna for the coast. Miss Robertson, however, has decided to remain longer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Warren entertained informally on last Friday evening in honor of Mr. D. M. Linnard of Pasadena and his daughter, Miss Dorothy Linnard. There were about ten guests present and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed.

Mr. Linnard and his daughter returned to their home in Pasadena on the Siberia, sailing last Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Ketchum have purchased the James Dougherty house in Manoa Valley and intend to make it their permanent home.

Dr. and Mrs. Ketchum came to the islands last fall and the fact that they have bought a home here is proof that they must enjoy their environment. Mrs. Ketchum, who came here a bride, is an accomplished pianiste and organist and a delightful addition to Honolulu musical and social circles.

The many San Francisco friends of Mrs. Harold Naylor are eagerly reading all statements regarding the condition of her health as is shown by the following:

Mrs. Harold Naylor writes from Honolulu that she is still an invalid and will be confined to her bed for several weeks. In an automobile accident seven weeks ago Mrs. Naylor suffered severe injuries to her foot which necessitated an operation. While not serious, it will require absolute rest and quiet on her part until the wound has healed. Mrs. Naylor was with Mrs. Douglas McCaskey at the time of the accident.—San Francisco Call.
